

chance/intention

Josh Cloninger

May 31–July 29, 2022

The Tyler Gallery is pleased to present the first solo show from student artist, Josh Cloninger. Initially interested in photography, Cloninger's recent exploration of materials and process has led him to nonobjectiveism in watercolor. Each work documents the outcome of Cloninger's experimentation with media and reveals the choices that he made in the work's production. Cloninger lives in Powhatan, VA.

Walking towards a Void

Through every Color

Walking with Ideas

Through Paper and Plastic

Walking with a Purpose

Through Happiness and Despair

Walking in the Rain

With Family and Animals

Walking through Clouds

Searching for Completion

Walking with an Empty Hand

Looking for Acceptance

Walking with a Heavy Weight

Hoping not to Drop

Walking through Mist

Seeing what Happens

Walking with Drops

Everything falling from on High

Walking in Pain

Leaving behind Finished and

Unfinished Work

Walking Sleeping Waking

Finally Seeing

Walking

Life Art Color

SEEING

chance / intention

Josh Cloninger

1. Birds Nest

Photograph with hand-marbled paper

Process & Experimentation

2. Experiment #101

3. Experiment #3

Translucent Yupo

4. Experiment #46

5. Experiments #705 & #706

Shell Paper

6. Experiments #51 & #52

Translucent Yupo

7. Watercolors on handmade paper

8. Silly

9. Experiment #2 (top)

Experiment #4 (bottom)

10. Grief

Watercolor, salt, Yupo

11. Plants with Light Dimensional Ground

Watercolor with impressions of buttercups, goldenrod or flocks

12. Ink Bottles

Watercolor with impressions of ink bottles

13. Oil Slicks

14. Butterfly on Thistle (left)

Photograph

Butterfly in Epinephrine (right)

Watercolor with epinephrine

15. Experiments #7 & #10

16. Blue Green Red

17. Crape Myrtle #9 (left)

Crape Myrtle #9 on Copperleaf (right)

18. Experiments #22 & #23

19. Color Wheel

20. Lavender

Photograph

21. respect 2021 & 2022

Entrances

22. Stonehenge Lace

Circle Lace

All works Brusho pigment on Yupo paper unless noted. For purchase inquiries, please contact the artist at jcloninger@jtcc.edu.